

Once there was a frog living alone in a pond.
He felt lonely and wanted to invite his friends home. So he called 2 of his frog friends to come for the dinner. He decided to place them next to each other while he sat at the head of the table

How many frogs are there now?

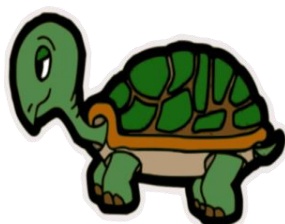

They had so much of fun that the frog decided to have a party again the next day. As both his friends were busy he decided to call his frined Mr Tortoise and his family. He went to call them, Mr Tortoise said he, his wife and both the children v

How many members are there in Mr Tortoise family?

The next day the entire Tortoise family went to have lunch with Mr. Frog. Mr. Frog's uncle had come for a visit and was very happy to meet them as they were old friends
